

Towards a common National Agenda

To be, or not to be: that is the question: Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer The slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, Or to take arms against a sea of troubles, And by opposing end them? To die: to sleep; No more; and by a sleep to say we end The heart-ache and the thousand natural shocks That flesh is heir to, 'tis a consummation Devoutly to be wish'd. To die, to sleep; To sleep: perchance to dream: ay, there's the rub; For in that sleep of death what dreams may come When we have shuffled off this mortal coil, Must give us pause: there's the respect That makes calamity of so long life; For who would bear the whips and scorns of time, The oppressor's wrong, the proud man's contumely, The pangs of despised love, the law's delay, The insolence of office and the spurns That patient merit of the unworthy takes, When he himself might his quietus make With a bare bodkin? who would fardels bear, To grunt and sweat under a weary life, But that the dread of something after death, The undiscover'd country from whose bourn No traveller returns, puzzles the will(Shakespeare, Hamlet, 1564 - 1616)

Resisting the truth and telling the lie

- A misnorma
- Zimbabwe is in a deep crisis
- A development of our own making
- The pix of the problematic????
- Human and deliberate

Electoral Conduct vs Reform

- Our failure to read into the Observer Missions Submissions and our alignment to the same is a cause for concern
- As a Party we do accept and recognise the importance and potency of the recommended transformational and electoral reformative punctuations that have been pillared on us as a nation.
- We do not want to succumb to the truth that we have failed as servant leaders

We are our own creation

- Different colours , one people
- We are defined by who we are, Zimbabweans
- Political Will against legislative imposition
- The impactful nature of deliberate attempt to subvert that which is real against failure to be good
- Untoward erressponsobility against the will of who w should serve

Are we better or worse??

- Worse than ever
- We did not accomplish the September 15, 2008 GPA Agenda
- Simply crying for what we know
- The Electoral Reform Agenda is part of a gamut of reforms
- We are there but not get there

Building a crest against a nation

- Zimbabwe should forward towards building a Zimbabwe we want
- Creating the feasible atmosphere to be better
- Working towards building a citizen than a voter
- Consolidating and democratically activating a national building agenda pitched and impeached on the need for transparent national healing prognosis

Building a Nation against the Crest

- Move away from individuals and delve into the consolidation of power around institutions
- Devolve the state in order for it to enjoy its diversity
- Learn from others and not being others
- Give space to those who are in power to be led
- Move away from the electioneering mode and mood

ZEC

- There should be a reformation agenda through ZEC, by ZEC or by parly
- Give powers to Parly to be able to make the closest decision in who has to be at ZEC including the Chairperson
- Reform as an institution based on Observer Mission Reports
- Deal with your own image... the Military factor

Deal with who you areZEC

- The re-engagement process is inward and begins with ZEC creating a conducive and honest environment with strategic and critical players in the Electoral Cycle
- Your ZESN, ERC, YETT, Women's organisations , youths Organisations , vulnerable groups etc.
- Build Trust... People beyond political parties should believe in you...You are ZEC

Nation Building

- Trust
- Reconnection
- Interdependency
- Patriotism

- Above all... Our women are important
